2020: Powerful and Resilient

Donors empower our community to remain vibrant today and forever.

Powerful and Resilient Today and Forever

This year has been unpredictable and tumultuous for just about everyone. In December 2019, the Foundation unveiled its 2020-2022 Strategic Plan. Three months later, COVID-19 hit and changed our world. It was a stark reminder of the Yiddish saying, Mann tracht un Gott acht (man plans and G_d laughs).

The Foundation responded by pivoting its operations to best serve the community. Within weeks, the Foundation and Jewish Federation jointly established the Jewish Hartford Rapid Relief and Recovery Fund to help mitigate the effects of the pandemic. Together with a dedicated corps of volunteers, our organizations raised close to $1 million from nearly 500 donors to provide humanitarian relief to people and to bolster the financial capacity of our agencies and synagogues to continue providing essential programs and services to our community (see pg. 4).

This is just one example of how this community's extraordinary leadership, donors and professionals stepped up to contribute more time, energy and resources to ensure we all pull through this pandemic together. Their efforts, generosity and effectiveness are a model for the ages.

The pandemic also has shown just how important endowments are to our community's current vitality and to our vibrant future. Through its Designated, Donor Advised and Community Action (Unrestricted) funds, the Foundation granted more than $3 million in 2020 to support the people and institutions in our local Jewish community, and is positioned to continue this high rate of grantmaking.

While steadfast in its commitment to help our community recover from the effects of COVID-19, the Foundation remains determined to continue harnessing the perpetual power of endowments to safeguard our community against life's curveballs and to ensure our grandchildren experience the same quality of Jewish life we are so grateful to enjoy (see pg. 8).

The following pages are filled with inspiring stories of people just like you who have actualized this power through their vision and generosity (see pp. 9-13). We know you'll enjoy seeing the many different ways they, together with the Foundation, are enhancing the causes and organizations they love dearly.

Please accept our heartfelt gratitude for proactively bringing about Tikkun Olam and for the privilege of being your partner in this endeavor. A special thank you also goes to our fantastic immediate past Board Chair, Leigh Newman, for her excellent work in leading the Foundation with her heart and wisdom through a very dynamic and productive five years.

Warmly,

Gayle W. Temkin
Board Chair

The Foundation would like to express our appreciation to the staff and leadership of all our community partners for your dedication and courage in serving our community during the pandemic. You are the heart and soul of our community and we are all resilient and powerful together because of your sacred efforts.

Powerful Together: Addressing COVID-19

We are always more powerful when we come together as a community to respond to a crisis. That's why the Foundation and the Jewish Federation established the Jewish Hartford Rapid Relief and Recovery Fund (RRR Fund) in March 2020 to help people, agencies and synagogues impacted by COVID-19. The Foundation and Federation seeded the RRR Fund with $150,000.

In the first months of the crisis, staff from the Foundation, Federation and Jewish Family Services (JFS) procured and delivered food each week, including hot kosher meals for Passover, plus Dignity Grows hygiene products to 125 Jewish families in need in 19 towns in Greater Hartford.

"Pia and I learned from the front lines just how much this food is needed and appreciated," says Lisa Berman, President of JFS, who led the volunteer food distribution efforts for JFS, together with Pia Rosenberg Toro, Chairperson of the Board and Past President of JFS. The food program was eventually transitioned to JFS, which is doing a tremendous job serving the community's needs.

The RRR Fund also provided direct financial assistance to those struggling from the economic fallout from the pandemic. Examples include helping a family pay for a Jewish funeral, providing financial aid to a woman who lost her job and had to support herself and her elderly father, and an entrepreneur whose business had been deemed non-essential and didn't qualify for governmental assistance.

Powered by contributions from nearly 500 donors, the RRR Fund raised and earmarked nearly $1 million in 2020 — including $300,000 from JCF Donor Advised and Designated Funds — to help the Greater Hartford Jewish Community during COVID-19. This includes $225,000 for humanitarian needs such as food and financial assistance, more than $500,000 to help mitigate the financial hardships our agencies and synagogues suffered due to COVID-19, and $175,000 to establish a Jewish Interest-Free Loan Fund to supplement needs for families and individuals.

The Foundation is grateful to Dana Keller and Bruce Fischman, RRR Fund Development Committee Co-Chairs, and David Rosenthal and Sid Ulreich, Grantmaking Committee Co-Chairs, who passionately led the RRR Fund effort, and to the committee members who worked tirelessly to make it all happen.

Family Philanthropy During the Pandemic

When the world seems chaotic, Sean White finds solace by looking at a photo of his grandmother making matzah balls. This is Sean's most treasured memory of Miriam Toubman.

More than 30 years ago, the Toubmans began a tradition of family philanthropy to honor their father and grandfather, William, who passed away at age 52. The family tradition continued when they honored Miriam by creating the Miriam Toubman Family Fund, a Donor Advised Fund at the Foundation, after her passing in 2009. Recently, they renamed the fund to include William, and broadened its charitable goals to also reflect his passions and allow for combined decisions in grant-making (including organizations both William and Miriam might support).

Every year, Miriam and Bill's six children and their extended family research local, national and international issues, exchange data-filled emails, talk in person and hold group calls to discuss how they will honor their parents with a charitable donation from the family fund. Those discussions also allow the siblings to share stories and the values of their parents with their children or grandchildren.

"We're talking about the pandemic and food insecurity and housing issues in education," Sean explains. "How can this year's donation tie together with the holistic well-being of students, so we can help students, both in high schools and colleges, better understand the world, and to learn and think as citizens?"

The family's grant went to Foodshare in Connecticut, recognizing that, without adequate food for people during a healthcare crisis, not much learning will happen.

Bill and Miriam's legacy is a blessing that is still keeping everyone together even if they all can't get together in person right now to share those memories — and Miriam's matzah balls.

Donors' Vision Builds Resiliency

The Foundation is built on the foresight of wise donors who established endowment funds. When our donors set up their funds, they could not have fathomed a global pandemic in 2020. The gifts of yesterday make us better poised to address new and emerging needs.

The Power of Endowment in Action

Frank Kavitsky left a legacy gift decades ago that has provided remarkable support every year. His legacy will continue far into the future, since he entrusted the Foundation with a planned gift before he passed away in 1998. Since he left this gift of $1.2 million, the fund has granted out nearly $1 million to the Federation, and his fund's balance is $1.5 million — even larger than his original gift. That is endowment in action!

Legacy Giving is Visionary

You care about the Jewish community and its future. You want your grandchildren and their grandchildren to enjoy vibrant Jewish lives and perpetuate the values their families hold dear.

You can help make this happen with a legacy gift. Consider establishing an endowment for your favorite organization or cause in your will as a beneficiary of your IRS or life insurance policy, or through a planned gift that provides funding to a non-profit and income to you. We can help you choose the best way to make this happen.

Funding Educational Dreams

Education was very important to Barbara and Leizor Kessel, so they created a scholarship fund to benefit Jewish students from Greater Hartford pursuing higher education.

When they passed, the Kessels, who were both Holocaust survivors, left their condo, personal property and part of their estate to create the Leizor and Barbara Kessel Scholarship Fund. Established 20 years ago with about $850,000, the fund has helped dozens of students realize their dreams, granting out more than $575,000. Today, their fund is worth more than $1 million...and will continue to award scholarships in perpetuity.

"I am honored and humbled that the scholarship comes from two Holocaust survivors, and I will always remember their generosity and appreciate their accomplishments as immigrants to the United States. My educational pursuits would not be possible without the generous support from the Jewish Community Foundation."

Preserving Jewish History

How have the Jewish people survived for thousands of years? Dr. Jeffrey Rudikoff pondered this question 55 years ago after his first child was born. “With a tiny minority dispersed throughout the world, Judaism should have vanished, but it never did...we always found an answer to events that threatened our existence,” says Dr. Rudikoff, who now has five children. “There is something about the Jewish story that is valuable...and worth understanding.”

To pass on his passion for Jewish religion and history, Dr. Rudikoff established The Jeffrey Rudikoff Jewish History Fund, an endowment fund at the Foundation that supports classes on Jewish history and the origins of the Torah at his synagogue, Congregation Beth Israel.

“Thanks to Dr. Rudikoff’s generosity and insight, children and adults now and always shall be able to grapple with our texts, study our story, and be inspired to make a difference in our world,” says Rabbi Michael Pincus of Congregation Beth Israel.

“I believe that knowing our journey is an important part of being a Jewish person,” says Dr. Rudikoff, who opened an endowment fund that supports Jewish history education.

Endowing Social Services

When Marlene Scharr's youngest child was born with Down Syndrome, she thought about starting a group home for families who have members with intellectual challenges to celebrate Jewish traditions together. This initial vision inspired a gift in 1976 to JCF to establish the Jewish Association for Community Living (JCL) group homes in the Greater Hartford Jewish community.

Over the years, Marlene and her family established three endowment funds: the Marlene and Jerome Scharr Family Fund (Donor Advised), the Elizabeth Ina Scharr Fund (Designated) and the Goldie Issner and S. Leonard Ginsberg Fund (Community Action Unrestricted).

The Scharrs have also granted funds to human service agencies including HARC, JCL and Camp Horizons. "These are organizations that people don't generally give to, yet they are very important community organizations that need our support," says Marlene.

"As times change, the needs of our communities are better served by a collective organization such as the Jewish Community Foundation. I feel comfortable knowing that if an emergency occurs in our community...JCF will be there as a source of help."

Lillian Fund Inspires Giving and Action

Karen Binkhorst's first gift to the Foundation's Lillian Fund was in honor of her mother for Mother's Day. "I made donations in my mother's name for several years, but I wanted to be more involved in philanthropy and give back to a community that has given so much to me," explains Karen, a life-long resident of West Hartford.

Karen eventually joined the Lillian Fund Committee, offering her time, talent and passion to help women and children in need. "I want to change lives for the better and to empower as many privileged people as possible to help nonprofits," she says, "and the Lillian Fund is a beautiful way to do this."

Karen's $100 gifts to the Lillian Fund are now in honor of each of her three daughters, so they can vote for which nonprofit should receive the giving circle's annual grant. "I want their voices to be heard," says Karen, whose three daughters and one son are actively involved in nonprofit work and social justice activities. "I want my kids to know that philanthropy is more than just writing a check," she continues. "They have a responsibility to give back."

JewGood Hartford Redefines Philanthropy

Will millennials be the generation that redefines the future of philanthropy? Studies show millennials want to be more experimental and data-driven with their giving, and more personally involved in addressing long-standing social challenges. Steve Piaker thinks JewGood Hartford members are already leading the charge for change in our own backyard.

“JewGood Hartford is so much more than a giving circle at the Foundation,” explains Steve, a JCF Trustee and a partner at NapierPark Global Capital. “It’s a support system of young people who are passionate about philanthropy and want more hands-on personal involvement in the community. These young people are making Greater Hartford a more vibrant community.”

Max Schwimmer, JewGood committee member, is also confident in its future.

“JewGood allows me to participate in an eye-opening grant making process, where I get to learn about the work of community organizations and consider where our grant will have the most collective impact.”

Steve and Randi Piaker support JewGood Hartford through grants from their Donor Advised Fund.

What is a Giving Circle?

A giving circle is a group of like-minded individuals who donate their time and money to a pooled fund and decide together which organizations and causes will receive their grants. Members form meaningful friendships while affecting change on social issues together.

JCF operates two giving circles — JewGood Hartford for young professionals and the Lillian Fund for women — and encourages an annual gift of $100 to become a voting member of either circle.

2020 GRANTS IN ACTION

Grand Total: $4,421,678

Donor Advised Funds

Donor Advised Funds offer powerful and flexible giving opportunities. Fund holders recommend grants to the causes they love most on their own timetable.

Music Empowers Neighborhood Children

Donor Advised Fund holders are supporting Music Matters, a first of its kind program for underserved children in Hartford. Hosted by the Charter Oak Cultural Center's Youth Arts Institute, students in grades 4 and 5 enjoy free private and ensemble instrumental music instruction in a comprehensive afterschool program 4 days a week, as well as food and homework assistance.

Helping People in Need

Grants from Donor Advised Fund holders are improving the quality of life for clients with limited finances at the Jewish Association of Community Living (JCL). “Gifts from the Foundation’s generous donors allowed our residents to receive rental assistance, therapeutic horseback riding lessons, music therapy and adaptive equipment such as walkers and wheelchairs, which are not always covered by insurance,” says Denis Geary, JCL’s Executive Director. “We are grateful for this support.”

Securing a Resting Place

When a local Jewish cemetery required funding to protect against vandalism, multiple Donor Advised Fund holders recommended grants to help build a new fence.

Community Grants Program

Board-directed Community Action grants, from the Foundation's unrestricted funds, support the long-term strength and vitality of the Greater Hartford Jewish community. The Foundation seeks unique opportunities to strategically invest in programs and services that — without the Foundation's support — might not be possible.

Expanding Behavioral Health Options at Hebrew Senior Care

The Foundation joined with many of our community's major donors to assist Hebrew Senior Care (HSC) with its impressive plan to transform its business model from an acute care ward to an expanded Behavioral Health Unit (BHU). The expansion has doubled HSC's capacity to care for seniors from 16 to 32 beds, addressing a shortage of behavioral health services for seniors in Greater Hartford, while providing a steady income to help ensure HSC's financial sustainability. "The Jewish Community Foundation provided $100,000, which significantly bolstered our fundraising effort," says HSC Chair Debbie Kleinman. "Our agency was also blessed by strong volunteer fundraising led by Henry Zachs."

JTConnect Receives New Grant

The Foundation launched new “Springboard” grants to help small organizations build their capacity to enhance participation and bolster financial sustainability.

Jewish Teen Learning Connection (JTConnect), which demonstrated impressive growth in the last few years, was awarded a three-year Springboard grant of $120,000. The grant is being used to support a second staff member at JTConnect, allowing Executive Director Eric Maurer to spend more time working on fundraising, board development and engagement and strategic planning.

“Growing our programming and strengthening our operation would not be possible if it weren’t for the Foundation’s Springboard grant,” says Eric.

When JTConnect suspended in-person programming in March 2020 due to COVID-19, it launched virtual hangouts for teens to stay connected — and its programming did not miss a beat.

Taking a Stand Against Racial Injustice

To help advance racial, economic and legal justice for the Black community, JCF’s Board of Trustees unanimously voted to grant $10,000 to the YWCA Hartford Region for its advocacy programs and $10,000 to the Urban League of Greater Hartford to support economic empowerment.

In an unusual departure from utilizing its Community Grants Program funds to support local Jewish institutions exclusively, JCF’s staff and leadership initiated these grants, due to extraordinary circumstances in our community and country.

“Times like these demand that we not only speak out against racism, but also match our words with tangible support,” says Jacob Schreiber, President and CEO of the Foundation.

Impactful Giving Repairs the World

Donors are visionaries. No matter what is happening in the world, their funds provide a steady stream of income forever, whatever the future may bring.

The funds listed on the following pages are those valued at $5,000 or above as of June 30, 2020.

For a listing of funds and fund balances, please visit our homepage at www.jcfhartford.org. You may also contact JCF to request a mailed copy.

Community Action (Unrestricted) Funds

Community Action (Unrestricted) Funds allow donors and leaders to respond to local community priorities — now and forever — by capitalizing on promising opportunities to strengthen the Jewish community. By entrusting the Foundation's Trustees to determine how to allocate these funds, donors ensure that their philanthropic vision for a vibrant Jewish community will be in good hands for generations to come. These visionary funds will allow the Foundation to grant more than $800,000 in 2020-2021 to help our community during COVID-19.

2020 Financials

The Jewish Community Foundation of Greater Hartford has a mandate to fulfill its role in Greater Hartford by maximizing dollars available for making grants today and ensuring that charitable dollars entrusted to it are available in perpetuity. A well-diversified investment strategy and the generosity of our donors enable JCF to meet these objectives.

Investment Portfolio

JCF's assets are managed in a commingled investment pool. JCF has a long-term investment horizon with relatively low liquidity needs. For these reasons, the portfolio can tolerate short- and intermediate-term volatility in the interest of generating higher returns over the long-term.

Financial Oversight

JCF's Investment Committee crafts and implements investment policy and monitors the individual investment managers and their performance. The Investment Committee is assisted by an independent consulting firm, Colonial Consulting, LLC of New York, NY.

The managed investment portfolio includes traditional equity and fixed income investments, alternatives including private equity, emerging markets and real assets/commodities. Diversification among multiple asset classes helps to reduce the volatility of JCF's portfolio and moderates market risk.

Spending Policy

By using a spending policy, JCF helps ensure that charitable funds will be protected for the future while continuing to have impact today. The policy determines the amount that will be available for grant-making and to support JCF's operating budget. The 2020 spending rate was 5% of the previous 20-quarters' average ending value of each fund, subject to a 4% floor and 5.5% ceiling of current fair market value.

Expenses

JCF's management and Board of Trustees take careful steps to ensure that the operating expenses are kept as low as possible. JCF's expense to asset ratio for the year was 1.3%.

Audited Financial Statements

JCF's financial statements are prepared under the policies and procedures overseen by its Audit Committee and, ultimately, the Board of Trustees. The statements are audited by CohnReznick LLP. JCF's audited financial statements for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2020 are available online at www.jcfhartford.org.
