

2019 ANNUAL REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY

JEWISH COMMUNITY FOUNDATION
OF GREATER HARTFORD

We are proud to be part of a Jewish community whose members support a broad spectrum of interests and display boundless creativity in finding new ways to sustain and secure our future. We celebrate the diversity of ideas and donors in our community by recognizing the uniqueness of every individual and group, while also realizing that we are, ultimately, stronger together.

This year's Annual Report demonstrates the Jewish Community Foundation's (JCF's) commitment to promoting diversity in our Jewish community by highlighting a mosaic of donors, community partners, programs and grants whose impact makes our world a better place. You will read about:

- ▶ New social programs, such as the Jewish Federation's "Dignity Project," which provides thousands of hygiene packs to women in need
- ▶ A new young professionals engagement initiative, "JewGood Hartford," which promotes collective philanthropy through education and volunteerism
- ▶ Life-changing stories involving family philanthropy
- ▶ A collaboration between two community organizations to expand a music therapy program for adults with intellectual disabilities
- ▶ An ambitious vision to launch a new center that provides seniors with integrated services to help them age in place in their homes.

JCF's culture of encouraging our community's diversity is further reflected in our new mosaic-style logo, which serves as the inspiration behind this publication's graphic design. The 12 tiles of the mosaic represent the 12 tribes of Israel and the various components of the modern Jewish community. It's a visual guide to enlightenment, justice and – with your support – how we come together harmoniously as one community.

We are deeply grateful to the hundreds of fundholders whose collective vision, passion and generosity enabled JCF to award nearly 1,200 grants this past year, totaling $4.5 million. Of this figure, $3 million was invested in Jewish institutions and synagogues in Greater Hartford, while the other $1.5 million supported a variety of Jewish and general causes in the United States, Israel and around the world.

Thank you to all the donors, leaders, professionals and community partners who contributed their time, energy and resources to ensure our community's vibrant Jewish future. It is a privilege to partner with you in our collective pursuit of Tikkun Olam and meaningful Jewish continuity.

Sincerely,

Leigh Newman
Chair, Board of Trustees

Jacob Schreiber
President & CEO

Our new logo expresses our values to the world: forward-thinking, community-minded and focused on impact. We hope the design instills in you the vision that we have: the Jewish people always moving forward with passion and commitment to repairing the world.

The Star of David is part of our enduring heritage, central to our identity and grounded in strong values.

At the center of our logo is an open space. This space symbolizes the work ahead of all of us – the completion of community – the vessel that we will fill. Together.

Funding the Future of the Jewish Community

JCF helps donors achieve their philanthropic hopes for today, tomorrow and in perpetuity. JCF asked a few donors to share their aspirations for their philanthropic investments.

What are your hopes for our community?

How are your funds impacting your goals?

Naomi and Joel Kleinman

This is a great Jewish community. We believe in “paying it forward.” Our predecessors created this Jewish community, and we want it to continue and grow.

Our goal is that, through our support, Hartford will be a strong community for the next generation. Our fund enables us to provide general operating support to those organizations about which we care. It is important to enable these organizations to use the funds where they are most needed to ensure that they remain vital over time.

Beth Goldberg

My hope for the future is that our synagogues and community organizations will still be vibrant. I believe strongly in synagogue life and think that’s where people can make deep connections to others and to the community.

David Federman

My hope for the future is for continuity – for the community and its agencies to be there for future generations and for future generations to feel the need to support the community. We need to keep the next generation engaged.

David and Gail Mangs

The center of our Jewish community is synagogue life. People want their synagogue and clergy to be there for them when they need it. Our hope for our community is that we keep synagogue life strong.

Lee Ann and Claudio Benadiva

Our hope for the future of the Jewish community is two-fold. One is that there will always be many opportunities for Jewish education. Our fund will continue to support Jewish education in perpetuity.

As our children have grown, our other hope is that there will continue to be ways for Jewish young adults to get connected to each other and to the larger Jewish community. Engaging young adults is the key to our community's future, and we want to be able to support programs that focus on this as their mission.

Giving Circles

Giving circles create connections among philanthropists who share an ambitious vision for social change.

Women Multiplying Impact

It started with a spark of inspiration and ignited a 20-year philanthropic mission. In 1999, a group of women bonded over their common mission to help women and children in need and launched a new giving circle, the Lillian Fund. The first major gift was $1,000. Today, thanks to generous donors over the past 20 years, the Lillian Fund has $283,420 in endowed funds.

The inaugural Lillian Fund Steering Committee chose to help prevent violence against women, raising $100,000 in three years. As a result, Jewish Family Services increased counseling support from 63 to 90 Jewish women in Greater Hartford; other vital support included emergency financial assistance for shelter, facilitation of permanent housing and gift certificates for supermarket purchases.

Over the years the Lillian Fund has supported a range of issues impacting women and children in Greater Hartford and in Israel. For example, a grant to the Jerusalem Hills Therapeutic Centers in Israel provided overnight counselors for at-risk youth. In 2019, the Lillian Fund members voted to provide a grant to the Charter Oak Cultural Center's Youth Arts Institute in Hartford, providing approximately 15 weeks of free arts programming for an estimated 72 underprivileged students.

The Lillian Fund honors the accomplishments of Lillian D. Wald, z"l, a Jewish woman and a founding member of the NAACP, who dedicated her life's work to advocating for women's issues, child welfare reform, public health issues and world peace.

Melissa Weinstock and Lauren Drazen are co-chairs of the Lillian Fund and have reinvigorated the giving circle. "We feel very strongly about expanding the reach of our collaborative dollars by supporting local organizations serving women and children," say Melissa and Lauren.

"Thanks to our small but mighty women's giving circle, together we are practicing Tikkun Olam right here at home."

Members of the Lillian Fund met with Rabbi Donna Berman, Executive Director at Charter Oak Cultural Center, after providing a grant to the Center's Youth Arts Institute.

When these like-minded individuals pool their money into one fund, they unlock the power of collaborative grant-making, forge meaningful relationships and explore a new philanthropic path that can last a lifetime.

Young Professionals Engaging in Philanthropy

For young people in JewGood Hartford, exploring philanthropy is not just about deciding how to give generously – it’s a journey. JewGood Hartford is JCF’s new giving circle, empowering young professionals of all backgrounds to engage in philanthropy. “JewGooders” attend social events, called Hangouts, and educational Events to connect over shared interests, express Tikkun Olam, and collaboratively award grant money to the issues they care about the most.

JewGood Hartford launched in February 2019 with a kickoff event at FoodShare, Greater Hartford’s regional food bank, which drew more than 70 young professionals. “We combined volunteering and learning about hunger in Connecticut with a happy hour and learning more about how you can get involved in JewGood,” says Eric Maurer, a member of JewGood’s Steering Committee and Executive Director of JTConnect.

“The more time I’ve spent here [in Greater Hartford], the more I’ve found people with a hunger to volunteer and engage with like-minded people,” says Committee Co-Chair Erin Rickel, Production Coordinator at ESPN.

“We have created a space for people to learn about philanthropy, volunteer and make friends. We are building a foundation for our generation and the following generations to continue to be leaders in philanthropy and volunteerism — even at a young age.”

Members of JewGood Hartford, one of our giving circles, volunteered at FoodShare, the largest hunger relief organization in the Greater Hartford area.

Grants in Action

Funding grants can transform lives and create vibrant communities. Your grants have accelerated social impact for a wide range of causes. Here is just a sample of the power of grant-making that allows communities to try new ideas, solve problems and advance important missions.

Donor Advised Funds Support Inclusive Community

Music therapy offers adults with intellectual disabilities a chance to sing, dance and play instruments while building their self-esteem within a friendly, inclusive environment. When the Music Therapy Program at the Jewish Association for Community Living needed more funds to meet demands, JCF rallied Donor Advised Fund holders to help. The program is so popular it is now hosted at the Mandell Jewish Community Center.

Dignity Project Helps Women in Need

A lack of hygiene and menstrual supplies no longer serve as a barrier to education, employment, and social connection for women and girls in need in Greater Hartford, thanks to the Dignity Project.

Launched by Women of Impact at the Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford and supported by a number of generous donors - including several of JCF's Donor Advised Fund holders - the Dignity Project recruits volunteers to assemble Dignity Packs, which include a one-month supply of sanitary pads and tampons, a toothbrush and toothpaste, soap, deodorant and shampoo. These items are not provided by government assistance programs or most food pantries. Dignity Packs are distributed through a variety of local nonprofit organizations, including Jewish Family Services of Greater Hartford and Mikveh Bess Israel. JCF's Donor Advised Fund holders have provided a total of $13,000 toward a $20,000 goal to provide 2,000 Dignity Packs over the next two years.

Helping Our Seniors

The older population is growing and needs more comprehensive health and wellness services, which can include home care and behavioral health care.

To address these needs, Jewish Family Services of Greater Hartford (JFS) will create a new model for quality comprehensive care tailored to each family's individual circumstances. JCF funded the development of a business plan which will more fully integrate the services of JFS and JFS Care at Home. The grant will also provide a new source of revenue for JFS.

"Some older adults do not have local family members to rely on for assistance, so they may have a greater reliance on paid care," says Anne M. Danaher, Chief Executive Officer of JFS. "We want to help them receive the care that matters to them the most, and for many that is receiving care in the comfort of their homes."

When organizations such as JFS receive capacity-building grants from JCF, they can explore forward-thinking investments for sustainable growth that strengthen our community for generations to come.

2019 Grants

We are honored to steward your philanthropic goals. Your generosity provides immediate and lasting impact and strengthens Jewish Community. Thanks to your support, we awarded 1,118 grants totaling $4.5 million.

▶ $3 million was invested in Jewish institutions and synagogues in Greater Hartford

Exploring Philanthropy through a Family Fund

At JCF, we engage individuals and families to explore their philanthropic vision. We are honored to steward a personalized and meaningful experience for all of our generous donors. We recently helped Richard and Cyral Sheldon establish the Sheldon Family Advised Fund. We asked Richard and Cyral's children, Scott, Sloane and Stacy, to share their experiences in selecting charities and making annual grants from their family fund.

Stacy

“ Philanthropy has always been part of our family life. I can remember dinner discussions even when I was a child about the importance of tzedakah and the responsibility of those who are fortunate to ‘give back.’ It's important to talk about these issues because it enables people to openly articulate and share their personal values and priorities. That's what underlies charitable decisions. ”

Scott

“ Philanthropy is about selflessly giving to a cause for someone else's benefit. My sisters and I pick causes that deeply matter to us and decide together how to make a donation that is most impactful. ”

Sloane

“ When we travel together, we'll hear about a cause, visit a charity and choose to give together as a family. We can make a big impact by funding small charities and directly connect with people who are being positively impacted. ”

Honoring The Torah

JCF grants helped the Farmington Valley Jewish Congregation - Emek Shalom (FVJC) restore and preserve two scrolls rescued from the Holocaust more than 60 years ago. Today, these two Torahs are being given a second life, serving at the heart of religious life at FVJC, from High Holiday services to countless b'nai mitzvah. The restoration project offered lessons to community members on scribing and Torah restoration techniques that culminated in a Siyyum (celebratory ceremony and meal) at the end of the program.

Exploring Agricultural Education

Pre-school children rolled up their sleeves and learned firsthand about agriculture and science during a series of visits to Auerfarm 4-H Education Center. Supported by JCF's Community Grants Program and Donor Advised Funds, the Farm Explorers program is a successful collaboration comprising the Mandell JCC, Solomon Schechter Day School and the Hebrew Academy. The initiative inspires children and adults to enjoy learning about the natural environment. Back in the classrooms, students learned about Jewish values and traditions in agriculture.

2019 Financials

The Jewish Community Foundation of Greater Hartford has a mandate to fulfill its role in Greater Hartford by maximizing dollars available for making grants today and by ensuring that charitable dollars entrusted to it are available in perpetuity. A well-diversified investment strategy and the generosity of our donors enable JCF to meet these objectives.

Investment Portfolio

JCF's assets are managed in a commingled investment pool. JCF has a long-term investment horizon with relatively low liquidity needs. For these reasons, the portfolio can tolerate short- and intermediate-term volatility in the interest of generating higher returns over the long term.

Financial Oversight

JCF's Investment Committee crafts and implements investment policy and monitors the individual investment managers and their performance. The Investment Committee is assisted by an independent consulting firm, Colonial Consulting, LLC of New York, NY.

The managed investment portfolio includes traditional equity and fixed income investments, alternatives including private equity, emerging markets and real assets/commodities. Diversification among multiple asset classes helps to reduce the volatility of JCF's endowment and moderate market risk.

Spending Policy

By using a spending policy, JCF helps ensure that charitable funds will be protected for the future while continuing to have the most impact today. The policy determines the amount that will be available for grant-making and to support JCF's operating budget. The 2019 spending rate was 5% of the previous 20-quarters average ending value of each fund, subject to a 4% floor and 5.5% ceiling.

Audited Financial Statements

JCF’s financial statements are prepared under the policies and procedures overseen by its Audit Committee and, ultimately, the Board of Trustees. The statements are audited by CohnReznick LLP. JCF’s audited financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2019 are available online at www.jcfhartford.org.

Expenses

JCF’s management and Board of Trustees take careful steps to ensure that the operating expenses are kept as low as possible. JCF’s expense to asset ratio for the year was 1.4%.

Funds by Type
