

Legacy Giving Options

JCF partners with local agencies and synagogues to provide permanent management of their funds. When you make an endowment or legacy gift to benefit organizations you love, JCF manages the fund in perpetuity and makes regular grants to your chosen organizations. For that reason, when you make legacy plans for Life & Legacy gifts and other gifts to be stewarded by JCF, the beneficiary of your gift should be JCF. You can specify in notes or additional details the organizations that should receive your gift. More details are below.

Charitable Bequest in Your Will or Trust — Bequests can be made by will or revocable trust and take a variety of forms, such as a specific amount, a percentage of your estate, a remainder allocation, or a certain asset. An attorney can update your documents to reflect your wishes.

Life Insurance Policy — You can make charitable gifts of life insurance policies in several ways. You can name JCF as a beneficiary or partial beneficiary of group insurance or individually-owned policies, or donate a new or existing policy that has been paid up. Your insurance agent can advise on the best options.

Designate as a Beneficiary in an IRA — These assets are directed by a separate beneficiary designation form, not by your will. Request the appropriate form from your IRA provider and indicate the Jewish Community Foundation of Greater Hartford, Inc. as a full or partial beneficiary. Our tax ID number is 06-1372107.

Charitable Gift Annuity (CGA) — An agreement under which you transfer cash or securities to JCF in exchange for our promise to pay a fixed amount annually to you and/or another beneficiary — for life. The payout rate is determined by the age of the beneficiary/ies receiving income and is subject to change. The older the beneficiary, the higher the annuity payment. JCF opens CGAs of $25,000 or more for donors ages 72 and above.

Charitable Remainder Trust (CRT) — Your irrevocable transfer of cash or property to the trust creates two interests — an income interest for an individual beneficiary, and a remainder interest for JCF. The income interest can be paid for the lifetime of the beneficiary or for a term of up to 20 years. Upon the death of the income beneficiary, or at the end of the specified term of years, the balance of the trust assets is held by JCF in a named endowment fund. Trust payouts are either a fixed percentage of the trust assets or a fixed dollar amount. CRTs are generally best for larger gifts (generally $100,000 or more), and can be set up through JCF or directly with a trust or estate lawyer.

Retained Life Estate — Donate your home and continue living there. Take a tax deduction in the year of the irrevocable gift, live in your home throughout your lifetime and your home will go to JCF upon your passing. The home sale proceeds will be used to create a fund of your choosing.

How to Name Gifts to Support Your Wishes

- To contribute to an existing fund or create a new named one, you should name the Jewish Community Foundation as the legal recipient (the organization named in legal documents, beneficiary designations, even personal checks) with a note or memo that designates the intended fund. For example, in a will, the designation would be "to the Jewish Community Foundation of Greater Hartford to establish an endowment fund to benefit [YOUR CHOSEN ORGANIZATION or CAUSE]."
- If you have multiple funds and/or directions for your JCF gift, you may also provide personal written correspondence (not legally binding) with instructions for JCF. These instructions will be kept on file at JCF, and may be updated at any time without necessitating an attorney to revise the binding legal documents.
